THE HOME OF APHRODITE

Paphos

Mediterranean Hot Spot

Paphos is a southwest coastal city in Cyprus and is the capital of Paphos District. It's the fourth-largest city in the country after Nicosia, Limassol and Larnaca with a population of just over 35,960 in 2018.

The town's name is linked to the myth following the goddess Aphrodite. Paphos was the son of Pygmalion, who was devoted to the cult. Take a stroll down to the harbour to see the statue of Aphrodite, to see where the Greeks agreed the site to which she rose from the sea.

In 1980 Paphos was included in the UNESCO World Heritage

List, for its ancient religious importance as well as its ancient architecture & mosaics. It was also selected in 2017 as European Capital of Culture alongside Aarhus.

Today, Paphos is a tourist haven with many visiting the Kato area. Its clear blue water & sandy beaches make for a relaxing getaway. The history is unmatched if you love to over indulge, or explore local restaurants for the most euthenics Mediterranean dishes.

Things To Do & See

Paphos has so much to offer. See the best things to do below;

Paphos Castle

QC34+FQ4, Kato Paphos Harbour, Coastal Broadwalk, Paphos, Cyprus

Admission: €2.50

Standing grandly at the west end of the town's harbour, Pafos (Paphos) Castle (Medieval Fort) was originally a Byzantine fort built to protect the harbour, and was rebuilt by the Lusignans in the 13th century, but then dismantled by the Venetians. The Ottomans rebuilt it in the 16th century when they conquered the island. What survives today is the 1592 Ottoman restoration of the western Frankish tower with its Venetian additions. An inscription above the only entrance of the castle bears witness to this restoration.

Tombs of the Kings

Tombs of the Kings Ave 63, Chloraka 8015, Cyprus

Admission: €2.50

The famous 'Tombs of the Kings' form part of the Archaeological Park of Kato Pafos (Paphos) - one of the most important archaeological sites of Cyprus that has been included in the UNESCO World Heritage Sites list since 1980.

Kato Archaeological Park

QC45+F8X, Paphos 8040, Cyprus

Admission: €4.50

The Archaeological Park of Kato Pafos (Paphos) is one of the most important archaeological sites of Cyprus and has been included in the UNESCO World Heritage Sites list since 1980.

Paphos Municipal Beach

QC94+866, Paphos 8045, Cyprus

A beautiful beach with safe bathing and plenty of lifeguards to ensure your safety.

While some areas may be harder to swim in, the section in front of the hotels is a secure and comfortable spot to enjoy the crystal-clear waters. Sun beds & umbrellas available to rent.

Kings Avenue Mall

Corner St. Paul &, Tombs of the Kings Ave 2, Paphos 8046, Cyprus

Stores include; Berska, Calvin Klein, Calzedonia, Guess, Flying Tiger, Ingot, Holland & Barrett, Jack & Jones, Lacoste, Levi's, Mango, Marks & Spencers, MAC & more. Places to eat & drink; Cafe Nero, Burger King, Costa Coffee, Cinnabon, KFC, Pizza Hit & more.

Paphos Harbour & Promenade

QC45+7HF, Paphos 8040, Cyprus

Take a stroll along Paphos promenade with its stunning views of the Mediterranean sea.

Baths of Aphrodite

384V+GGX, E713, Neo Chorio 8852, Cyprus

approx. 1hr drive

The natural grotto of the Baths of Aphrodite, and its botanical garden, can be found past the fishing harbour of Latsi, and towards the tip of the Akamas Peninsula. Shaded by an old fig tree, amidst lush greenery, legend tells that the Ancient Greek Goddess Aphrodite used to bathe in the waters. According to Greek mythology, Aphrodite met her lover Adonis at this beautiful spot when he stopped for a drink whilst hunting, and fell in love with her the moment when he drank the water.

Rock of Aphrodite at Aphrodite's Beach

MJ8H+74P, Pedestrian Underpass, Kouklia, Cyprus

It is located off the shore along the main road from Paphos to Limassol. The combination of the beauty of the area and its status in mythology as the birthplace of Aphrodite makes it a popular tourist location.

Paphos Castle

QC34+FQ4, Kato Paphos Harbour, Coastal Broadwalk, Paphos, Cyprus

Admission: €2.50

Standing grandly at the west end of the town's harbour, Pafos (Paphos) Castle (Medieval Fort) was originally a Byzantine fort built to protect the harbour, and was rebuilt by the Lusignans in the 13th century, but then dismantled by the Venetians. The Ottomans rebuilt it in the 16th century when they conquered the island. What survives today is the 1592 Ottoman restoration of the western Frankish tower with its Venetian additions. An inscription above the only entrance of the castle bears witness to this restoration.

Adonis Baths Waterfalls

VCCP+C7, Koili 8543, Cyprus

Admission: €15

Adonis Baths is located in Kili Village in Paphos, is one of the most calming, unique and visited areas in Cyprus. Tradition says that Adonis the God of Beauty tended his horses in this place and hunted in the Akamas forest.

According to Greek mythology Adonis and Aphrodite had many children here, the citizen of Paphos are supposed to be descendant of these two lovers. However, Artemis the Goddess of Hunting was jealous of the love between Adonis and Aphrodite and tried to find a way of killing Adonis. She threw a golden almond into the baths to try to attract his attention. Poseidon the God of Sea saw what was about to happen so covered the golden almond with a torrent to prevent Adonis from drowning. Artemis had another plan, she asked Mars the God of War to push the mountain onto Adonis at the baths.

Blue Lagoon

38M4+93, Neo Chorio, Cyprus

approx. 1hr 30m drive

Nestled 50 kilometers from Paphos, the Blue Lagoon awaits its enchanting beauty. This stunning bay boasts soft white sands and crystal-clear turquoise waters, making it a must-visit destination for any traveler in Cyprus. Dive into the warm, crystalline waters and swim with the fish like a pro.

Snorkeling around the reef offers unbeatable views of sea life.

Agios Neophytos Monastery

Admission: €2.00

Located about 9km north of Pafos (Paphos), the monastery of Agios Neophytos was founded by the Cypriot recluse and writer Neophytos in the second half of the 12th century, in what used to be a secluded location at the head of the picturesque valley. The hermit carved a cave out of the mountains called the 'Enkleistra', which is covered with some of the finest examples of Byzantine frescoes that date back from the 12th to the 15th centuries. The monastery has a noteworthy ecclesiastical museum and its later church also contains some of the finest Post-Byzantine icons dating to the 16th century.

Paphos Town Market

Ayoras 23-shop no 2, Paphos 8010, Cyprus

Nestled in the heart of the Old

City area, the Paphos Old Town Market transcends mere shopping; it's a lively bazaar that encapsulates the very essence of Cypriot life. Picture a labyrinth of stalls, each a treasure trove of local crafts, fashion, and flavors, inviting you to dive into the authentic local culture. This isn't your run-of-the-mill shopping experience; it's a dive into the heart of Paphos itself.

Early Christian Basilica, St Paul's Pillar & more

QC57+7CW, Stasandrou, Paphos 8041, Cyprus

FREE

Located in Kato Paphos, the Panagia Chrysopolitissa Church was built in the 13th century over the ruins of the largest Early Byzantine basilica on the island. Within the compound is St. Paul's Pillar, where according to tradition, Saint Paul was flogged before the Roman governor Sergius Paulus was converted to Christianity. The church was originally seven-aisled, but was later reduced to five aisles. The floor of the basilica was covered with colourful mosaics, some of which are still preserved.
